YOUR CRUISE

Cruise with Ponant on a brand new itinerary to discover Viking ruins as you follow in the footsteps of Norwegian explorer Erik the Red.

Step aboard the Le Soléal in Reykjavik for a 13-day expedition cruise to southern Greenland.

Sailing along the steep eastern coastline, the ship will plunge into deep southern Greenland fjords and continue up past mountains worn away by glaciers and covered with rich, abundant flora.

Accompanied by a team of anthropologists, ornithologists, geologists and experts in marine mammals, you can get up close to the amazing wildlife: seals, whales and maybe even polar bears.

To the west of the country, you will sail amongst the blue icebergs of the Narsarsuaq region and the northern hemisphere's largest icebergs in Ilulissat.
