YOUR CRUISE

Discover Patagonia during a new 14-day expedition cruise aboard Le Soléal. PONANT is offering you the opportunity to explore the most beautiful scenery Chile and Argentina have to offer, including glaciers, fjords, and winding channels.

You will board your ship in Valparaiso, a beautiful city which bears many traces of its colonial past and is listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

During the first part of your cruise in South America, you will call at Quemchi, after a sailing during which it is not unusual to encounter sea lions and porpoises. Quemchi is an authentic village located on the lush island of Chiloé.

After the first part of the cruise, during which it is not uncommon to come across sea lions and porpoises, you will discover Quemchi, the first stage of your journey in South America. This very authentic village, located on the verdant Chiloé Island, is also the birthplace of the famous writer Francisco Coloane.

Your ship will then head to the Chilean fjords, before making your way to Tortel and its charming stilt houses interconnected by a labyrinth of wooden footbridges.

Next, enter the magic of the Chilean fjords and channels for exceptional moments spent sailing amidst landscapes of unrivalled beauty. The narrow passages, channels and fjords will lead you right up close to stunning glaciers, including the Brüggen Glacier and El Brujo.

Another highlight of your adventure in Patagonia will be visiting the sublime Torres del Paine National Park, a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve not far from Puerto Natales.

You will also sail the famous Strait of Magellan before taking the Beagle Channel, south of the Isla Grande de Tierra del Fuego.

After rounding the mythical Cape Horn, you will reach Argentina and disembark in Ushuaia, the world's southernmost city.
